

HUMAN SUBJECTS EDUCATION, TRAINING & OUTREACH

Resources

The Office of Responsible Research Practices (ORRP) Quality Improvement (QI) team uses resources to develop education, training and outreach materials:

- Ethical principles and codes
- Federal regulations and guidance
- Institutional policies
- Technology innovations
- Association for the Accreditation of Human Research Protection Programs, Inc. (AAHRPP) standards
- IRB Policy Committee
- IRB composition and expertise requirements
- Ohio Revised Code

Evaluate

The ORRP QI team conducts assessments and collects data from multiple sources and initiatives to determine the needs of the research community and how best to provide education, training and communication and outreach.

The QI team evaluates data collected from:

- IRB member requests
- IRB Policy Committee recommendations
- ORRP staff suggestions
- Post-approval monitoring findings
- Research team requests
- Community members
- Website analytics

Identify

The QI team identifies education, training and outreach opportunities from the data collected which guide:

- Development of new program initiatives
- Development of content-based programs
- Revisions to existing training and educational offerings
- Refinement of current program initiatives
- Partnerships with other university units and services
- Adoption of new education and communication media

Implement

ORRP employs a vast array of education, training and outreach methods based on the targeted audiences:

- IRB member onboarding and continuing education
- IRB member newsletters
- ORRP staff onboarding and continuing education
- Research community newsletters
- Live presentations/forums
- ORRP-staffed office hours
- External webinars and conferences
- Bulk email messaging
- Online training
- Streaming and on-demand presentations and videos
- Regularly updated website content
- Outreach visits

Monitor

The QI team monitors program initiatives to ensure the quality, relevance and effectiveness of its offerings in order to promote and maintain ethical human research conduct and continuous quality improvement.
