Activity 2: Collaborative Research Scenarios
Group 1

Read the description of changes for two amendments below. Use the Collaborative Research Decision Tree to determine which scenario applies and the Buck-IRB cheat sheet to determine which application pages and documents are required to reflect the collaboration. Be prepared to share your answers!

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________
Buck-IRB pages: ____________________________________________________________
Documents required: __________________________________________________________

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________
Buck-IRB pages: ____________________________________________________________
Documents required: __________________________________________________________
Activity 2: Collaborative Research Scenarios
Group 2

Read the description of changes for two amendments below. Use the Collaborative Research Decision Tree to determine which scenario applies and the Buck-IRB cheat sheet to determine which application pages and documents are required to reflect the collaboration. Be prepared to share your answers!

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________
Buck-IRB pages: _______________________________________________________________________
Documents required: ___________________________________________________________________

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________
Buck-IRB pages: _______________________________________________________________________
Documents required: ___________________________________________________________________
Activity 2: Collaborative Research Scenarios
Group 3

Read the description of changes for two amendments below. Use the Collaborative Research Decision Tree to determine which scenario applies and the Buck-IRB cheat sheet to determine which application pages and documents are required to reflect the collaboration. Be prepared to share your answers!

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________

Buck-IRB pages: _______________________________________________________________________

Documents required: ___________________________________________________________________

---

Describe the change(s) to the research and provide a rationale for each change.

We are adding sub-award funding from UC Irvine. Researchers there have developed an in vitro diagnostic test for early detection of pancreatic cancer. They are conducting basic bench research and investigating the device using mouse models. Ohio State will run a clinical trial of the device in humans. UC Irvine will not be involved in the clinical trial portion; because their team is not involved in human subjects research, their UC Irvine’s IRB will not have oversight of the clinical trial.

---

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________

Buck-IRB pages: _______________________________________________________________________

Documents required: ___________________________________________________________________

---

Describe the change(s) to the research and provide a rationale for each change.

We wish to enroll participants from Riverside Hospital for this study, thus we are adding Riverside as a location. Ohio State will serve as the lead site for the project, but OhioHealth’s IRB will provide oversight for the interactions and interventions at Riverside. The following collaborators from Riverside will consent (and interact with) subjects: Dr. Aaron Adams, Dr. Blake Boston, and Dr. Carl Carruthers. Nurse practitioner Holly Harper will also recruit and consent participants.

---
Activity 2: Collaborative Research Scenarios
Group 4

Read the description of changes for two amendments below. Use the Collaborative Research Decision Tree to determine which scenario applies and the Buck-IRB cheat sheet to determine which application pages and documents are required to reflect the collaboration. Be prepared to share your answers!

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________
Buck-IRB pages: _______________________________________________________________________
Documents required:___________________________________________________________________

SCREENING SCENARIO: #__________
Buck-IRB pages: _______________________________________________________________________
Documents required:___________________________________________________________________